“Understand the Electronic Submission Process and Protocols for IDMP, RIM, Global and Regulatory Submissions”

ExL Events is hosting the 2017 eRegulatory Submissions Summit, taking place July 10-11, 2017 at the Sheraton Philadelphia University City in Philadelphia, PA.

Regulatory submissions in today’s industry are constantly changing in accordance with new standards and protocols, and it’s important that submissions are properly managed. This conference will cover electronic submissions processes to construct strategies for the identification of medicinal products, regulatory information management, and global and regulatory submissions. Come review electronic submission guidelines and adhere to the new standards for submissions.

“I cannot remember a time in my career when the regulatory submissions landscape has been confronted with this many evolving regulatory changes, trends and challenges, which is one reason I am so excited to be chairing this year’s eRegulatory Submissions Summit,” said Olga Alfieri, Director, Global Submission Management at Eisai. This year’s conference convenes key industry leaders from Celgene, Teva, Lycera, Bristol-Myers Squibb, Eisai and more. Our speakers will be addressing regulatory updates via sessions and panels. Don’t miss out on this opportunity to network and collaborate with your colleagues.
